SAPA AGED LIMESTONE

Sapa Aged limestone is a dark blue-grey limestone with numerous white shell fossils, calcite veins and small dark grey flecks. The ageing process produces a unique stone with a smooth surface and a subtly aged edge. It has good slip resistance and is easy to maintain.

Sapa Aged limestone is a very hard wearing limestone and can be used in commercial and residential projects. With low porosity and good frost resistance, Sapa Aged limestone can be used to create a seamless transition when used inside and out, and is suitable for use with under floor heating. Step treads and swimming pool copings are also available.

Sapa is quarried in Northern Vietnam where mysterious ancient carved stones date back nearly 2000 years and the area is on the short list for UNESCO World Heritage status.
